toes: Season for Tomatoes Nearing a Close.

The beginning-of-the-week duliness was evident on the local produce market Monday, and dealers reposted the receipt of practically no new eatables aside from a consignment of tomatoes from Davis county. Dealers offered a good supply of seasonable vegetables. The demand for potatoes continues about as good as for anything on the market.

The season for tomatoes is rapidly nearing its close, and housewives who intend to put any up this season should lose no time. The vegetable is moderately plentiful at the present time, and the price is as low as it has been this season.
